Noah's Big Boat

WORSHIP We praise God for His loving actions.

References

Genesis 6–9; Patriarchs and Prophets, pp. 90–110.

Memory Verse

"I will . . . sing about the Lord's love" (Psalm 89:1, ICB).

Objectives

The children will:

Know that God cares for the things He has created.

Feel thankful for God's care.

Respond by thanking God for His care.

The Message

I thank God for taking good care of me.

Getting Ready to Teach

The Bible Lesson at a Glance

God tells Noah to build a big boat. Animals and Noah's family enter the ark. It rains for 40 days, and the earth is covered with water. God keeps Noah and his family and the animals safe in the ark. Noah thanks God for keeping them safe. God places a rainbow in the sky as a sign that He will never again cover all the earth with a flood.

This is a lesson about worship.

We worship God when we thank Him for His care. We also worship God when we listen to Him, follow His directions, and trust Him to keep His promises.

Teacher Enrichment

"While Noah was giving his warning message to the world, his works testified of his sincerity. It was thus that his faith was perfected and made evident. He gave the world an example of believing just what God says" (Patriarchs and Prophets, p. 95).

"Had the antediluvians believed the warning, and repented of their evil deeds, the Lord would have turned aside His wrath, as He afterward did from Nineveh" (ibid., p. 97).

TWO

Room Decorations

Use the setup you used last month for the Creation story. You will need to add some kind of space to serve as Noah's ark. Suggestions: a small boat, an appliance-sized cardboard box painted brown, benches or chairs arranged in the shape of a rectangle and draped with blankets to form sides, a blanket on the ground, or the outline of a boat drawn in the dirt or sand.

1 PARENT TIME

Busy parents often arrive at church tired and worn out from the week's activities and from getting the family ready for the "day of rest." Share a word of encouragement with them sometime during Sabbath School (possibly during Arrival Activities), something that will express your care and concern for them. The following statements were prepared by young parents as suggestions, and may be used at your discretion.

Week 1

My very new and precious baby looked so tiny to me as I placed her in the stroller. This was our first outing. We were going to the airport to see my aunt, who had a layover in our city. As I began to push the stroller down the concourse, a feeling I had never experienced before came over me. I was so overwhelmed with protectiveness that I just wanted to shield her from the big world. As I thought about it later, I prayed that God would give me the same feeling of protectiveness for her spiritual well-being that I had for her physical well-being.

Share a time you felt "overwhelmed with protectiveness" for your child. What action can we take to have that same desire for our children spiritually?

Week 2

Ever had your expectations disappointed? Imagine Noah. Preaching for years, encouraging, hoping. Then to have only a handful of people take you seriously, and they happen to be members of your own family. Parenting sometimes gives us similar feelings of disappointment. Things are not necessarily what we anticipated. The baby is sick or fussy. "Exhausted" is the only word we can think of if people should happen to ask, "How are you?" We don't get much attention now—the baby gets that. And really, this job is a whole lot harder than we ever thought it would be. When my expectations of parenting were disappointed, I realized I was just looking at what I wanted, and not what God had in mind for my life. When I placed myself in His care, I soon realized that He gave me far more than I could have asked for.

Share about a time that trusting God helped restore your faith.

Week 3

While we were away on a business trip, my sister stayed with our children. It was time for bed, when our 4-year-old began to cry. His auntie asked what was wrong, and he said that he was scared and missed Mama. Auntie reminded him that God's angels watch over us. She asked him how many angels he'd like. "Ten thousand," he replied. So they prayed together.

As she was leaving the room, Auntie said, "Oh, excuse me; pardon me; oh, I'm sorry."

My son said, "What's wrong?"

Auntie smiled and said, "The room is full of angels—it's crowded in here!" Very content, my son went to sleep. He still remembers that experience, and even now as a teen he prays for ten thousand angels. "The angels of God are ever near your little ones" (The Adventist Home, p. 432).

Share about a time you knew that angels were watching over your family.

Week 4

When my oldest child was just 3 and I was six months pregnant, my hormones got the best of my memory, and I accidentally locked him—and my car keys—in our van at a shopping center. He was strapped in his car seat that he couldn't unbuckle. Luckily it was winter, so I didn't have to worry about him overheating.

I was sure I was prepared for this. I got down on my hands and knees to reach for the key box that was supposed to be hidden underneath a part of the car. I was so big that it was hard to bend anymore, and I couldn't find it. What could I do?

I asked a couple getting into their car if they had a cellular phone so that I could call my husband. They gladly let me use their phone, but my husband wasn't at his desk and couldn't be found. The couple suggested I could call the emergency number for help. Gratefully I did, and tried to wait patiently.

Along came a police officer. He tried to open the car—no luck. Then came the firefighters. They tried with success! I was so grateful for their help and for God's protection. As I reached for my son, he gave me a big, bright smile. He hadn't been worried at all! His childlike faith taught me something big—no need to worry. I can depend on God.

Tell about a lesson you learned from a child's faith in God.

Week 5 (or optional)

Corrupt. Evil. Awful. The world that Noah and Mrs. Noah lived in was not a nice place to raise children. The things their children were exposed to were enough to make one shudder. A world much like today. And yet all three of their boys married women who joined them in their God-planned escape, worked beside their father, and ultimately chose to go into the ark though the rest of the world chose otherwise. When I am fearful for my children's spiritual well-being in this age, it's comforting to remember that.

Share some specific ideas you may have to help teach your child to choose God's way.

ARRIVAL ACTIVITIES

Provide simple play activities on the carpet, blanket, sheet, or quilt inside the semicircle for children who arrive early. The children participate in these activities under the supervision of an adult until the program begins. The child's play should be with materials that relate to the program, which is based on the monthly Bible story.

Choose from the following suggested activities for this month. Be sure to include something for the span of children's ages.

A. Book Basket

A selection of books and simple puzzles about animals or Noah's ark.

B. Float Boats

Provide small plastic boats for children to pretend to float. (Options: make boats by shaping aluminum foil, or "float" small sticks safe for small children to handle.)

C. Play Sets

Noah's ark sets in wood, plastic, cloth, etc.

D. Rocking Chair

Provide an adult-sized rocking chair so children may be rocked.

E. Toy Stuffed Animals

Help children identify them and imitate their sounds and walks.

The Message

I thank God for taking good care of me.

This is José. He is taking a bath in the tub. Can you see José's play boat? It floats on the water. Once a man named Noah made a special boat.

This man is Noah. (Point to Noah.) Noah lived a long time ago. Noah was God's special friend.

One day God told Noah, "It's going to rain and rain. Water will cover the whole world. Make a big boat. You and your family will be safe in the boat."

(Ask: Do you see the boat in the picture?)

God showed Noah just how to make the boat. (Point to the paper in Noah's hands.)

So Noah started to make the boat.

See the people? (Find the people helping Noah.) Noah cut big boards for the boat.

This is a saw. (Point to the picture of saw below.) Noah used a saw to cut wood. Pretend your finger is a saw. Make your saw go see-saw-see.

Mrs. Noah may have made good food to feed the hungry workers.

One day Noah's big boat was finished. Then out of the trees and forests—look! (Point to the animals coming out of the wooded area.) Animals came walking toward Noah's big boat.

Two big lions padded to the boat.

Two little rabbits hopped in. Two kangaroos jumped to the boat. Birds flew in. It was an animal parade! Angels led the animals right into the ark! (Help your child identify and/or point to animals and make animal sounds.)

Then Noah and his family went into the boat. God shut the door and locked it.

Rain began to fall. (Point to the raindrops.) Day after day it rained and rained and rained. The water outside the boat got higher and higher. But God sent angels to watch over the big boat. (Point to the angels.) It floated safely on top of the water.

Noah was safe inside. Noah's wife and his children were safe. The animals in the big boat were safe too. (Help your child identify animals and the food they are eating—hay for elephants, horses, cows; grain for chickens and ducks, etc.)

God took care of Noah's family and the animals until the earth was dry again. Then God opened the door to the ark and let Noah and his family and the animals go out.

"Look up," said Noah. "No more rain! God took good care of us. Let's thank Him."

Noah and his family thanked God for taking care of them.

Then God put a beautiful rainbow in the sky. God made the rainbow to remind us of His promise. He will never again cover all the earth with a flood.

God takes good care of us too. Let's thank God for caring for us. (Pray.)

1. Sing the memory verse song learned in Sabbath School.
2. Look for pictures of places where our angels watch over us.
3. Find pictures of people who help protect us (firefighters, police officers, lifeguards, etc.). Thank God for people who help keep us safe.
4. Name three people who take care of you and/or keep you healthy. Tell God "Thank You" for them.
5. Set a clear glass of water in a sunny window. Can you see a rainbow?
6. Sit together under an umbrella inside. Thank God for taking care of you during storms.
7. Is it raining today? Sing a song about rain.
8. Put toy animals in a plastic or Styrofoam cup and try to float it in the bathtub.
9. Count to 40 on your fingers and toes.

Do & Say

Study these suggestions for something to do each day with your child. Select those that are appropriate for your child's developmental stage and repeat them often.

That's how many days it rained!

10. Pretend to be animals. Stretch your neck up tall like a giraffe. Hop like a bunny or a kangaroo. Buzz like a bee. Gallop like a pony.
11. Feed your pet. Pretend you are Noah caring for the animals.
12. While riding in a car, thank God for taking care of you as you go.
13. Poke holes in the bottom of a used plastic bottle. Take it outside, fill it with water, and watch the water flow out. Is it like rain?
14. Make an ark out of cushions or kitchen chairs. Bring toy stuffed animals or a pet into the ark with you.
15. Make an ark by tying a piece of string to a paper cup or box and filling it with animal crackers. (Have the animal crackers for lunch.)
